

Environmental Health

The main objective of the environmental health department is to promote and protect public health through the enforcement of local and state public health and environmental health laws, rules, and regulations for the citizens of Moore County. Moore County Environmental Health Specialist who enforce these rules and regulations, are required to be authorized by the North Carolina Division of Environmental Health and registered by the North Carolina State Board of Sanitarian Examiners. The Division is responsible for North Carolina State mandated sanitation inspections on a basis determined by the state legislation. These services are available to citizens, contractors, real estate professionals, food service managers, owners, developers, lodging, day care owners, school system administrators, public swimming pool operators, medical facilities, tattoo artist, and other interested parties in Moore County.

The Food/Lodging/Institutional section is responsible for food service plan reviews, permitting, and/or inspections of restaurants, food stands, temporary food establishments, mobile food units, school cafeterias, meat markets, day cares, hospitals, rest/nursing homes, schools, local confinement facilities, residential care homes, motels, bed and breakfast homes/inns, public swimming pools/spas, lead investigations( children's lead law), summer camps, food borne illness investigations, and general complaints regarding food service establishments. This section also provides educational opportunities in conjunction with the Cooperative Extension Office in Serve-Safe food handling classes.

On March 1, 2014, the first of the four samples were collected from the site. The samples were collected from the site and were used for the purpose of the study.
